Personal statement

I am a young multimedia designer with a flair for the technical side - both simple and advanced website solutions as well as Wordpress. Design, communication and concept development are only a few of the qualities that I possess. I'm curious and ready for challenges. Contact me and we'll build something unique together!

Specialities

Website design gives me the unique opportunity to work with visuals and create something special.

Coding is my absolute force. I enjoy seeing coding and web applications turn into something that just works.

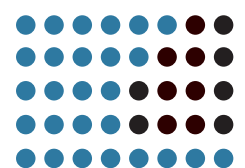

My force for coding leads me to Wordpress, where I am capable of creating themes and other integrations.
